Maryland Patient Safety Center Names 2015 Winners of Patient Safety Innovation Awards

Elkridge, MD – January 22, 2015 - The Maryland Patient Safety Center (Center) announced that Anne Arundel Medical Center (AAMC) has received the 2015 Minogue Award for Patient Safety Innovation, and that Western Maryland Health System received the Distinguished Achievement award. Eight other providers were named Circle of Honor winners.

The winners were selected from a total of 74 excellent submissions by a panel of independent judges who are leaders in the Maryland healthcare community. The two top winners will be asked to present at the 11th Annual Patient Safety Conference on March 31, 2015 at the Hilton Baltimore, and all winners will be recognized at a reception at the same hotel the evening of March 30.

“These medical centers developed innovative solutions to patient safety issues, from improving communications by installing whiteboards in patient rooms to initiatives that address issues related to medication safety and the changing healthcare environment,” said Robert Imhoff, President & CEO of the Maryland Patient Safety Center. “We congratulate our winners; its efforts like these that help Maryland healthcare providers make great strides in improving patient safety.”

Named for the Center’s first President and Executive Director, William Minogue, MD, FACP, to honor his enduring contributions to and passion for improving patient care and safety, The Minogue Award was created by the Center Board of Directors to recognize an organization within the state that has made a demonstrable difference in patient safety through an innovative solution.

AAMC’s winning entry was entitled, “Patient and Family Centered Inpatient Room Whiteboards: Engaging Patients in Their Care.” Runner up Western Maryland Health System submitted an entry called “Meeting the Challenge of Health Care Change.”

Eight other submissions will receive Circle of Honor awards on March 30, 2015:
