Your Rapid Response Team

If you’re concerned, we need to know.

You know your loved one best. So, if you notice a decline in health:

- immediately tell a nurse
- ask if the Rapid Response Team should be called

The Rapid Response Team, which includes a registered nurse and respiratory therapist, work with the nurse and doctors to assess your loved one’s condition, provide needed emergency care, and keep the primary care doctor up to date about any changes.

For more information, speak with a nurse.
